

This abstract composition is a black and white graphic featuring a variety of geometric shapes arranged in a structured, grid-like pattern. The shapes are solid black and vary in size. The composition is framed by a thick black border.

The shapes are arranged in a grid-like pattern, with some shapes appearing in groups and others in isolation. The shapes include circles, squares, and rectangles. The arrangement is symmetrical, with shapes appearing in pairs or groups that mirror each other across the center. The overall effect is a balanced, geometric composition that suggests a sense of order and structure.
