

The Copernicus flash loader program in this folder can be used to flash load the flash image to the Copernicus on the reference board through the RS232 gold starter kit box. This is a Beta version of the flash loader program. Please use it and send all comments or issues encountered with the load program to Trimble's World Wide Technical Services manager at the following email address: brad_elliott@trimble.com